

Fact Sheet

Children's Book Illustrator Bryan Pollard has illustrated books for NZ authors like Margaret Mahy, Joy Cowley, Roger Hall, Sherryl Jordan and Tommy Wilson. He has worked with Publishers like Wendy Pye, Shortland Publications and also designed, illustrated and self published his own work in partnership with author Peter Mountain. For many years he has been an art tutor for all ages here in Tauranga working with local schools in Bethlehem, Matua, Otumoetai, Tauranga City centre and new schools like Omokoroa No.1, SDA Tauranga, St Thomas More.

Since 1992 Bryan has limited his commitment to only five schools, working with a goal in mind to find the best of the best as early as possible in local schools, tutoring, coaching and mentoring them in art extension courses called LiveArt4all©. Bryan has committed to children in these five schools, running illustration and design classes for any age and stage from 5 to 14+. Once the child reaches college age he invites them to attend his Youth/adult ed courses as extension to their school work with the intention of fast tracking the committed and gifted child towards a serious career in the visual arts. Children Bryan tutored years ago now attend his youth/adult courses and may take part in the 2012 art show in a city gallery. In 2009 we have doubled the number of schools Bryan will be working in from five schools to ten. If your school wants to start a LiveArt4all© course in 2010 - 2012, simply contact us by emailing your contact details to liveart4all@xtra.co.nz and start now, communicating with us about this unique "Whopartunity®" designed to benefit many in our schools and community in the future.

LiveArt4all© "Whopartunity®" is a full school day Event when every child in the school can try their hand at the prospect of working with a professional Illustrator in assembly classes of 140+ children, each paying a pre-registration fee of $3. These last for 75 minutes and in one day 420 can take part as we stage an interactive art show in search of the nation's best.

LiveArt4all© will continue to run their courses of 12 classroom hours, for 8 weeks, as a weekly 90 minute lesson usually run as an after school Art extension class coordinated by us with the parents, school Principal and Art coordinators help with Advertising. We have increased the hours of these courses from 7 to 12 hours a term and from 16 to 26 places with a renewed focus on finding the best of the best in the school while at the same time giving everyone a whopping opportunity to learn.

Pre-registration is $130 per student and is paid at the start of each term by the student directly to LiveArt4all©. This covers some of the drawing materials, our worksheets, Tutoring and cost of the disbursements, and is paid once we have registered our class for the term.
