

Liveart4all® Flexi Courses

Liveart4all® Flexi Courses are developed by professional artists, wanting to tutor, coach and mentor potential artists of all ages, from 5 to 85+, who are ready to start their journey with us by making right choices and taking chances, that could then lead us all to make a serious investment into a recreational life giving art experience or even more than that, to take a whopping art opportunity to work with professional artist, that start us on an art journey of our own, designed to be flexible, focused and for any age or stage student, ready to give art a go, by making a commitment to the full release of their own individuality and creativity.

Flexi fees and numbers of students:

The preference is to keep class numbers to between 12 to 24 art students. If the numbers grow from 24 to 50+ or even to 75+ this will impact on how the class is organised and the work evaluated. It will also impact on the registration fee per child, teen or adult. The goal of the Whopartunity is to call many and only choose a few as true finalists. How we do this is flexi in nature with a single focus, to draw out the true potential in each student finalist.

Minimum: 25 registering at $240+GST pp for art tutoring, coaching and evaluating one on one in our extension and accelerate courses. $20 pp per hour in the artroom.

More than 50 registering at $120+GST pp
for tutoring only, using self evaluating work sheets designed to stream children into smaller class sizes as extension art students. $10 per unit

More than 100 registering at $60+GST pp
for tutoring only with a call to register to those willing and wanting to go for more help with evaluation and one on one time. $5 per unit

Liveart4all require a minimum of 25 pre-registered students for 2 artroom hours to cover costs of running these courses in schools.

Flexi times and places:

In school or after school, week ends and/or term break specials.
12 units over 8 sessions per term, each 90 minutes of artroom time with homework at the discretion of the parents and student.
12 units split over two terms as 4 sessions per term, each 90 minutes with the same criteria for homework.
12 units over a weekend starter:- 12 sessions of fun drawing and painting, Friday at local school 4pm start, ends Saturday at 4pm.
12 units over 4 weekends of Saturday afternoons. 1pm to 4pm.
These run at the B.I. Now term by term.

Flexi generation by generation:

We work with Junior Y1 - Y2, streaming with Y3 - Y4 and Y5 - Y6 at extension and accelerate level first stage. Parents may attend as students for free to lead by example and follow-up at home what is provided as tutoring and coaching. They only assist at set up and pack up and refer to the tutor participating as adult students while our course is running. Teachers are also invited to attend for free on the same conditions. Liveart4all is run by the visiting artist who must be a professional to qualify in the tutoring service offered to schools. They are either illustrators or fine artists with a series of published work or art shows as proof of practice. Some professional artists are also tutors and art teachers working the two together but not all who teach art are artists by gifting or profession but may love the arts as patrons. The vision is to graduate from one level to the next, as the older serves the younger, the younger honours the older, and the master artist serves the up and coming student artist, passing on the legacy. We love to learn to live and leave a legacy to those like us, who are our own kind. The advantage of a multi generational course is self evident and unique. We function like a family of friends who love the arts. The belief is that it will become self perpetuating and grow city wide into the community we all love to live in and work with. This year 2011 we are also taking this nationwide.

Students in the same class, mothers, father, grand fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, families, friends, patrons, working together for a perpetual self funding and community focused art expression that is a celebration of life. Art, sport and entertainment are all ways to celebrate life values and the dream of being Kiwi on the world stage of life. What a Whopartunity a whopping art opportunity for any age and stage in our lives, truly Liveart4all.

Flexi events, session and courses:

Whopartunity Flexi Events :

Picture Art installations created as collaborative pre-orchestrated art works made up from parts owned and completed by individuals as module units of whopping spectacular artworks, with everyone having a part to play, making up the finished work. When the work is finished and shown each participant takes their artwork home as a memorial piece of work that became a vital part of a bigger picture and displays it in their home or own room to remind them that they took part in something greater than themselves, it was a true Whopartunity Event for them.

These artworks become artwork the school owns for a day that is created by the community of parents, children, staff and art patrons coordinated and art directed by professionals as a service to the next generation of up and coming artists of all ages and stages. For these to be truly a Whopping art opportunity made up of parts they need one creative art director who is professional and experienced in the creation, direction and production of such an art installation. This is where Liveart4all comes in to help. To know more contact us by email: liveart4all@xtra.co.nz or visit our website: www.liveart4all.co.nz

Every session or course is designed to be flexi focused:

We work in team with parents, schools and the students to develop and maintain a front foot go forward can do attitude in everyone no matter what the age or stage of the individual as they journey together with us in the discovery and full release of our individual and collective potential.

Important to Note:

These opportunities are designed and created for any one with next to nothing, who are finding enough faith in their own creativity to give it a go. After all, opportunity favours the brave, and the chance is offered to all, to make their own choices and take their own chances at Liveart4all, with a flexible focus on the future that is for the good of all.
