Why have you changed my picture and how can I make sure that all fits together in a spirit of unity?

Answer: Light!

The creative directives of the whole picture made up from 144 canvas lots is being subject to a visual audit canvas lot by lot so that the power of light seen in Janine's and Fay's lots call the eyes of the audience to the centre of the picture as the starting place. These two canvas lots are also being audited so they collaborate and cooperate.

Coordination of color, line, tone and values, textures and visual message is a huge task for the group heads, art directors and each artist. You are working to assist us all to make sure what you are doing has the right tone and visual sound and does not start to dominate and hider the visual flow.

Please study your own visual audits.
